A storm in a paper bag

A play for two voices. Pick Pip or Kit. Try the sounds with your voice. A paper bag is optional.

PIP Our play starts with a storm. Ready?

KIT Ready! I can be the thunder. BOOM!

PIP That was good thunder. But where is the rain?

KIT Rain? All we have is this paper bag.

PIP Try giving it a shake.

KIT CRACKLE! That sounds like someone opening a snack.

PIP Try rubbing just one corner. Slowly.

KIT Shh, shh, shh. Rain.

PIP Now rub two corners.

KIT Shh-shh-shh! Now it’s pouring!

PIP The storm starts small. Then it grows. What comes last?

KIT One last drop.

PIP Tap.

KIT And then?

PIP Quiet. The storm is over.

Swap roles and read again

Kit says “Rain?” and later “Rain.” Try both aloud. Which one sounds like a question? What did Pip change between the two lines?

After the play, name the sound they tried first, the change that worked, and the final sound.
